

Stag beetle point count

About your site

people's trust for endangered species

Please just complete this once in each year you take part.

Name of your site:

Use the nearest road name, town or park name e.g. Winchelsea Road or Danson Park.

Grid reference of site mid-point:

Please use latitude/longitude. You can find these coordinates using Google maps. On a PC, zoom in as far as you can and click on the mid-point of your site and a little box will pop up at the bottom of the screen with the coordinates. On your phone or tablet, press and hold on the location and a red pin will drop on that point. The coordinates will then show in the top bar.

1. Date:

2. Please tick the main habitat, looking at the 200m surrounding the site:

This information is needed to help explain any significant long-term declines in stag beetle numbers.

Agricultural

Broad-leaved forest

Coniferous forest

Deciduous forest

Mixed forest

Natural or semi natural vegetation other than forest

Park

Unknown

Urban

3. How much of the area (10m either side of the site) is covered by the crowns of broad-leaved trees?

Please use aerial photographs e.g. Google maps or just estimate yourself.

0%

25%

50%

75%

100%

4. How much dead wood is there, 10m either side of the site?

You may need to make an educated guess about this question as you won't be able to see into people's back gardens. Dead wood includes old trees (over 1m diameter), dead broad-leaved trees, broadleaved tree stumps and artificial logs (railway sleepers, log piles etc) of over 40cm diameter.

0m²

0 – 10m²

11 – 50m²

51 – 100m²

101 – 500m²

500 – 1000m²

5. Over the last 5 years has the habitat (suitable dead wood) been decreasing or increasing?

Decreased

Equal

Increased

We know that some of these are difficult or subjective questions but we're trying to keep our questions in line with the European methodology so the results are comparable. Just make the best estimate or educated guess you can, and please contact me laura.bower@ptes.org if you would like more help. Please see instructions for where and how to return your forms.

